

Did You Know Gorillas are AGILE?

Every talented team member at Gorilla Logic is an Agile native. Why choose an Agile partner? Because when a development team is collaborating daily, delivering incrementally, testing constantly and improving perpetually, we can deliver software solutions faster, with a better partner experience.

ALIGNMENT

A typical Gorilla band includes a member from your team. That's just one of the ways we ensure alignment is something that happens every day rather than only at project kickoff.

SPEED

All our developers utilize the Agile methodology to prioritize tasks and integrate changes in small sprints. This approach builds a viable software solution more quickly than traditional models (plus our English fluency and time zone alignment boosts communication speed too).

PROBLEM SOLVING

Our top-quality developers use prioritization methods to select which problems to tackle first. Then, constant evaluation ensures one solution doesn't cause another issue down the road. Try finding a non-Agile offshore team that can do that.

FLEXIBILITY

With each iteration, our Gorillas take your feedback, inspect and adapt. This allows for changes to be incorporated early and often.
